Prior to becoming the Director of the Ohio Department of Agriculture in 2007, Bob served as a county commissioner in Ashtabula County and as a state legislator. During his career in public service, Bob has used his agricultural background to make decisions regarding many rural issues, including funding for OSU Extension and OARDC, ethanol tax credits, agricultural linked deposits, soil and water conservation funding, and other rural issues. Bob was raised on a dairy farm in Ashtabula County and holds degrees from American University and Kent State University.

Linda Lahmon, Perry County - Linda Lahmon has been an avid supporter and promoter of OSU Extension programs since she first became involved with the Perry County Homemakers Organization. Since that time she has served as an active member of the Family and Consumer Sciences Advisory Committee, Extension Advisory Committee, and as a Master Gardener. Linda has been awarded the Perry County Homemaker of the Year Award, and the Perry County Homemakers Distinguished Service Award.
